

Frequently Asked Questions

1. Who can apply?

The grant is open to any consortium or individual with the ambition to improve policies, programs or knowledge in the field of security and rule of law in fragile and conflict affected countries. Think-tanks, (I)NGOs, academics, universities, private sector organizations, government institutions, journalists, independent researchers, data specialists, learning experts, and PhD candidates are all welcome to submit proposals.

Partnerships between individuals and organizations are highly encouraged, particularly partnerships that link people from different global regions.

2. When is the application deadline?

In 2017, there are two rounds of calls with a total of €150,000 available in each. The first round closed on 31 July 2017. The deadline for the second round is 11 December 2017, Close of Business (17:00 Central European Time).

3. Which of the three strands should I apply for?

We understand that there is some overlap between the three strands. However, each strand has a specific purpose. As a rule of thumb, if your application involves events, workshops etc. then the General strand is likely to be the most relevant. If your application is at all Research based then you may not apply to the General strand.

For research projects, that is, pilot studies, proof of concept studies, methodology testing, literature reviews and other activities focused on collecting and analyzing data, we encourage you to apply for the Research strand. If your idea is committed to experimentation or fresh ways to present findings and stimulate learning, then the Innovation strand is best for you. See the following flow chart for clarification.

4. How much can I apply for?

The fund will award grants of up to a maximum of €15,000. There is no minimum amount, however, the Secretariat will assess each grant's level of impact against the administrative burden involved in allocating and managing it.

All applicants must commit to providing in-kind contributions to at least 20% of the total award sought, and use the budget template to propose how they will do this.

5. How long does each grant last?

Projects must commence within six weeks of funds being awarded. The running time of projects may not exceed six months.

6. Can I apply for security and rule of law related projects outside of the thematic areas?

No. In 2017-18, the KMF will only award grants to projects that fall within one of the thematic headline areas:

1. Preventing Conflict and Sustaining Peace
2. Inequality, Power and Governance
3. Implementing Goal 16 of the SDGs
4. Change and Learning Processes

These themes have been decided following extensive consultation with Platform members, the Dutch government, and NWO/WOTRO and reflect people's most pressing and emerging priority areas. They are purposefully broad and try to leave as much scope as possible for applicants to engage the Platform on their specialist thematic and geographic areas.

7. Can I apply for more than one grant?

Yes, it is possible to submit multiple proposals. However, in order to maintain the strategic vision of the Platform, we encourage applicants to explain how the different proposals are strategically linked and/or sequenced.

9. Do I have to present at the Annual Conference?

There must be some public presentation of the results of the project in order to ensure that the entire community can benefit. One of the preferred ways of doing this is to host a session at the Annual Conference. If you are unable to present at the Conference in September 2018 then please do state this in your application, and suggest an alternative for presenting results to the Platform community.
