

Knowledge Management Fund 2019

Frequently Asked Questions

1. Who can apply?

Applications are open to any consortium or individual with the ambition to improve policies, programs or knowledge in the field of security and rule of law in fragile and conflict affected countries. Think-tanks, (I)NGOs, academics, universities, private sector organizations, government institutions, journalists, independent researchers or innovators, data specialists, learning experts, and PhD candidates are all welcome to submit proposals.

Partnerships between individuals and organizations and across the range of sectors within our network are highly encouraged. In particular, the KMF welcomes partnerships that link people from different regions of the globe.

2. When can I apply?

Applications are accepted on a rolling basis between the opening date (15 March) and the final deadline for applications (15 November). Applications submitted before the “Deadline for Applications” shown below will be accepted or rejected by the corresponding “Decision Announcement” date.

	Round I	Round II	Round III	Round IV
Deadline for Applications	26 April 2019	21 June 2019	13 September 2019	15 November 2019
Decision Announcement	13 May 2019	8 July 2019	30 September 2019	2 December 2019

3. Which of the three strands should I apply for?

As a rule of thumb, if your application involves only events, workshops etc. then your application should be submitted under the Events strand. If your application is at all Research based then you may not apply to the Events strand.

For research projects, that is, pilot studies, proof of concept studies, methodology testing, literature reviews and other activities focused on collecting and analyzing data, we encourage you to apply for the Research strand. While research should be the primary focus, projects under this strand can include organizing subsequent and related activities such as organizing research dissemination and presentations and validation workshops.

If your idea is committed to experimentation to address problems inherent within the SRoL field, or looking at fresh ways to present and disseminate research and knowledge or to stimulate learning, then the Innovation strand is best for you. See the following flow chart for clarification.

4. How much can I apply for?

The fund will award grants of up to a maximum of €15,000. There is no minimum amount, however, the Secretariat will assess each grant's level of impact against the administrative burden involved in allocating and managing it.

All applicants must commit to providing (in-kind) contributions amounting to at least 20% of the total award sought, and use the budget template to propose how they will do this (e.g. if the KMF Funding you have sought is €10,000, your minimum applicant contribution should be €2,000).

5. How long does each grant last?

Projects must commence within six weeks of funds being awarded. The running time of projects may not exceed six months.

6. Can I apply for security and rule of law related projects outside of the thematic areas?

No. In 2019, the KMF will only award grants to projects that fall within one of the thematic headline areas:

- 1 Change and Learning Processes
- 2 Examining and Improving Policy

These themes have been decided following consultation with Platform members, the Dutch Ministry of Foreign Affairs, and NWO-WOTRO and reflect the fund's specific value added in addressing emerging priority areas and feeding research outcomes and original ideas into programming and policies. They are purposefully broad and try to leave as much scope as possible for applicants to engage the Platform on their specialist thematic and geographic areas.

7. What will the KMF not fund?

The KMF will not fund overheads or indirect costs. The KMF will not cover any expenses not agreed in advance in the budget within the signed contract. For full information please see the budget guidelines.

8. What is an "applicant contribution"?

"Applicant contribution" or "co-funding" entails any in-kind contribution by the applicant to any of the existing budget items, supplementary to the budget requested from the KMF. The applicant contribution is in addition to the KMF Funding (e.g. if the KMF Funding you have sought is €10,000, your minimum applicant contribution should be €2,000). The applicant contribution should not imply or include double funding of the same budget item. However, budget items can be split between separate funding sources.

9. Is there an opportunity to present at the KPSRL Annual Conference?

There must be some public presentation of the results of the project in order to ensure that the entire community can benefit, as detailed in the assessment criteria. One of the preferred ways of doing this is to host a session at the Annual Conference, though this cannot be guaranteed.
